*Candidate elected.

The precinct and county returns have not as yet been given out for publication. However, it may be well to call attention at this time to the rapid and eminently satisfactory work of the canvassing board as a testimonial due its efficiency and close attention to business, notwithstanding the fact that Democratic critics have perpetually harassed and irritated the board from the time the count started. It has been engaged in the work for 29 days, as against about two months that was consumed for similar work in New Mexico. To those who are yet fearful that time has been lost, it is pointed out that there are fourteen counties in Arizona. The count has averaged two days to each county. In an ordinary election the supervisors more often than otherwise take two days for canvassing the returns, and in that instance the blanks are already provided and there is nothing to do but count, total and check. That was the least part of the work of this board, which not only had all the copying and rechecking mentioned to do, but had to devise its own blanks and then make them.

The official board, Governor Sloan Chief Justice Kent and Territorial Secretary Geo. U. Young, has been on the job all the time, one or another, or all three of them, whenever the clerks have been at work. In the meantime they have had the arduous duties of their offices to look after, duties which were more than usually voluminous, due to the early change of government.

READY FOR AXE

OF INCOMING REGIME

Territorial Engineer J. B. Girard, who arrived from Phoenix Monday, yesterday closed up matters affecting the suspension of further work on the territorial highway in this division, and returned to the capital city, auditing all claims accrued to date, and practically severing his relations with the project. In speaking of the action that was precipitated by five counties of Arizona refusing to transmit to the territorial treasury their assessments to further prosecute road work, Mr. Girard expressed himself as very much displeased over the action taken, for the reason that he desired to have Northern and Southern Arizona linked on the line this summer, when the beauties of the country would be opened up to hundreds of sightseers, who had evinced a keen interest in the work that was progressing so smoothly and favorably between Prescott and Phoenix, when drastic action was taken to thwart the object of a very popular public improvement.

Mr. Girard appreciates his official position under existing political conditions, and when the new administration assumes charge, will step down in favor of his successor. He has opened offices in the capital city and organized the Girard Engineering company, having as associates Carl E. Hasse and F. R. Goodman, both of whom were attached to road work throughout the territory for the past three years.

ERA BROWN KILLS FRANCISCO ALGIRA

In a dispute Friday morning on the range near Nelson, on the Santa Fe Pacific railroad, between Era Brown and Francisco Algira, the latter was shot in the left side and through the left ear, from the effect of which wounds he died at Del Rio while being brought to the city for medical attention yesterday morning.

Algira, according to eye witnesses of the shooting, informed Brown, foreman of the sheep interests of William McIntyre, that he would quit his job, whereupon Brown protested against him leaving without giving notice, so that another man might be employed. Words followed, when it is said Algira approached Brown with a piece of an iron bar in his hand, whereupon Brown pulled his gun and fired two shots, with the above effects.

The wounded man was placed aboard the train a few hours afterward and started for this city. Brown and companions also boarded the same train and came as far as Ash Fork, to appear before the justice of the peace. In the hearing that followed Brown was held to appear before the next grand jury for assault with a deadly weapon, and furnished bail. Algira's death followed later. Brown will be rearrested on a new charge immediately. Brown is well known in range circles in the northern part of the county being a one-armed man.

ARREST OF MAN ON VAGRANCY CHARGE

(From Sunday's Daily.)

A man by the name of Grubb, representing himself to be a newspaper man of wide experience and high class journalistic ability, blew into the Journal-Miner office Friday night. He was promptly turned down, as not being the genuine article. Yesterday, however, he seems to have succeeded in getting into the good graces of a number of people and among other places visited, was the Chamber of Commerce. He was given permission to use some paper on which to write a purported story for the Elks. And, once when the secretary left the room for a few minutes, and returned, Mr. Grubb was found to be missing. It finally became known that the gentleman was peddling postage stamps of various denominations around the town, and Mr. Fraser on making an investigation, discovered that some of his supply of stamps was missing. This and the fact that the stranger did not show any violent signs of looking for work, led to his arrest on a vagrancy charge last night by Officer McMahon.

AMERICAN TROOPS GO TO HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 31.—

While Lieutenant Colonel Charles W. Penrose, U. S. A., commandant at Fort George Wright, denied that orders have been received here, directing the early removal of troops from Spokane, the eight companies of the Twenty-fifth infantry are being recruited to full strength and artificers are at work building "squad boxes" and there are other activities to indicate that the soldiers, many of whom were formerly stationed at Brownsville, Texas, are preparing to travel to other climes.

Officers of the medical corps are exercising every care to maintain good health conditions. The raw recruits are placed in quarantine on their arrival at the post and are kept apart from the regular soldiers until it is determined they are free from contagious diseases. Other precautions also are being taken.

Reports are current that the entire regiment, four companies of which are stationed at Fort Lawton, Wash., will be sent either to Honolulu, to which point 4000 soldiers are to be dispatched from other posts, or join the troops in the Panama canal zone. Honolulu is most talked of at present, in view of the fact that Major General Carter says in his report to the War department, a copy of which has been received at this post, says 35,000 former Japanese soldiers have been discovered on the islands. Carter urges the stationing of a large force of trained soldiers, including cavalry, coast and field artillery and hospital and signal corps at Honolulu for action on short notice.

Army officers in Spokane will not discuss the significance of the government's activities in the mid-Pacific islands and the canal zone, but they admit that Japan is the "strategic" enemy, also that it is only a question of time when there will be a clash.

The wedding took place at the Fifth Avenue residence of the bride's parents and was largely attended.

APPOINTMENT OF INGALLS IS POPULAR

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Captain Frank S. Ingalls, surveyor general of Arizona, was recently appointed to succeed himself by President Taft, and according to advices from Washington was confirmed by the Senate on Wednesday last. No federal appointee for Arizona in recent years has a more excellent name for efficiency than Captain Ingalls. From a personal standpoint he is known from one end to the other of the country as genial and whole-souled, and his retention in office meets with deserved popularity in this section particularly.

Captain Ingalls it will be remembered first located in Prescott in the early '80s, serving in the Title administration as assistant secretary under H. M. Van Arman, secretary of the territory. He was elected captain of the old Prescott Rifles, of the National Guard, the first company to be mustered into the service of the territory.

Professionally he is a civil engineer and his administration of the above office can not better be expressed than by the commendable record he has made during his many years in the position.

CHAS. W. RUFFNER SUCCUMBS TO OPERATION

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Telegrams were received in the city yesterday from Los Angeles, which brought the sad news of the death of Charles W. Ruffner, the McCabe mining man, which occurred on Friday afternoon. Mr. Ruffner's illness became so serious that an operation was decided upon for kidney troubles, and death followed immediately afterward. Leaving Prescott about five weeks ago, the deceased went to Paso Robles, to receive treatment at the baths, but which were ineffective, and he submitted to an operation as the last resort. His affliction had its origin in mine work about one and one-half years ago, when he fell down so seriously in the region of the kidneys that from that day to the end he had suffered constantly.

Mr. Ruffner was one of the best known miners in the county, was diligent and capable, and his death will be mourned by all acquaintances. He leaves a wife and three children, the youngest but seven days old, residing at McCabe, and a sister, Mrs. J. T. Merriman, of St. Louis. He was a native of Missouri and aged about 51 years.

PRISONERS GIVEN WORK WHEN RELEASED

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Job finding for paroled or released prisoners was more than usually difficult during 1911 but a job found for one of the 1456 men who applied to the Central Howard association's headquarters in Chicago now provides a salary of $400 from which one subscription to aid the work of the association is paid. Of those who were helped 887 were first offenders.

The need of vocational training was shown by the fact that 582 had no trades of any kind. "Much has recently been made by the public press of the case of a prisoner about to be discharged, who wrote to one of the papers, stating his sad plight and immediately received many offers of employment," President W. M. R. French said in his report.

"The Central Howard association sends notice to all men about to be discharged from prison in this and neighboring states, apprising them that we are prepared to receive and find jobs for them without charge, upon communicating with our office. Not one but hundreds and thousands are helped in this way. Besides the immediate relief of individuals, we aim at the amelioration of prison conditions, the reform of criminal law, and other kindred objects. We appeal to all humane and benevolent persons to help an established and responsible organization which has clearly demonstrated its ability and usefulness."

Men have been sent to the association under parole from various institutions, all the way from Illinois to Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky and New York.

"When we come to consider the needs of these thousands coming forth from country and city prisons without money and without work, let us not repeat the folly that has, in many cases sent them there," Superintendent F. Emory Lyon said.

"Whether shall these men turn, if not to the Central Howard association, which has gained a gratifying reputation in finding employment for the jobless man, released from prison? During the past year more than a regiment of these men have been thus aided, notwithstanding that at no time during 1911 were industrial conditions normal, thousands of able bodied men were out of work in every city."

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 1.—According to reports from the secretary of state's office, Californians bought more than eighty automobiles a day during December.

MARKETS SICKLY, NO REMEDY IN SIGHT

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 29.—Packers continue to complain of the slow movement of dressed beef at consuming points, buyers have orders to bear down on the market till further instructions are received. They say that pork loins can now be put on the tables of consumers around 12½ cents per pound, which shuts out beef in many cases. Steers of a class not suitable for feeders, and below the upper crust in quality have accordingly suffered 25 to 50 cents in the last two weeks in the way of a price cut. Good to choice feeders are in demand, at $5.80 to $6.25, because a good many dealers have faith in higher prices for beef cattle in the spring. Prime heavy cattle have a good outlet, up to the rather limited supply of same, but the market on the middle class fed steers has eased off steadily for two weeks. Even at that, however, the cattle marketed so far have made money for the feeders. Hurry of feeders to cash in lends credence to the belief that receipts during February will show a larger shortage than January has, in which case prices might recuperate a little. It depends on a good deal, though, on the volume of receipts of hogs and sheep and lambs, each of which classes has made a good gain in January this year over the same month last year at the markets in volume of receipts. Cattle run here today is 11,000 head, including 42 cars of quarantine cattle, sales a shade weaker, except stockers and feeders, which are strong. Top natives brought $7.70 today. Veal calves are off 50 cents from a week ago, best now $7.50.

The mutton market is sick, and no physician has been found in the last two weeks than can do it any good. Prices are off 10 cents today, good to choice lambs not quotable above $6.50 some fair to good ones at $5.75 to $6.25, wethers $4 to $4.60, ewes $3.25 to $4. Commission men have been looking for some gains in the market, and expect best lambs to sell around $7 in February. Native territory feeders have shipped in most of their stuff it is argued, and Colorado feeders will not ship for some weeks yet. Run today 19,000, including 4400 head of feeders passing through not on the market.

BALDY MACHINE
OR DRIVER DID THE TRICK

(From Sunday's Daily)

Joe Geimer, chief engineer of the Crystal Ice works, has enrolled himself in the auto class and yesterday made his initial appearance with an Overland of 40 horsepower, which resulted somewhat disastrously to real estate interests at the above plant. The type of throttle he was unaccustomed to, and when the machine was slipping along at a pace of about 45 miles per hour with the condensing shed in front, the wheel refused to heed the twist of his wrist and about six feet of the structure was ripped off as clean as a whistle.

Mr. Geimer is known as a capable machinist and engineer, and attributed the mishap to the sensitive action of the throttle of the gasoline generating power, which acted in direct contrast to the steam methods with which he had been accustomed. The car was not damaged and neither was the driver.

FEWER DAILIES
REPORTED IN DIRECTORY

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 31.—Newspaper census figures for 1911, compiled by the American Newspaper Annual and Directory, published here today, indicate that multiplication of daily papers in the United States has come to a halt. A year ago the number was 2,472; the 1912 Annual lists 13 less, showing that the trend is now in the downward direction. According to this authority, greater mortality than birth rate is explained by suspension or consolidation of newspapers in crowded and unproductive fields. New England has lost four dailies, New York four, middle west states nine, and the western states have thirteen less than a year ago. Gains have been heaviest in the southern states, while the middle Atlantic section has an increase of three.
